

Small Business Conversion System Checklist

Find the leaks between attention and action

Prepared by Job “Jey” Njoroge
Conversion Systems Designer

Your website may be receiving visitors without turning enough of them into inquiries, bookings, or sales.

Use this checklist to identify friction in your customer journey. Check each item that is already working well. The unchecked items show where an improvement may be available.

Offer Clarity

- ☐ A visitor can understand what my business offers within a few seconds.
- ☐ My website clearly identifies who the offer is for.
- ☐ The main benefit is easy to understand.
- ☐ My offer explains the outcome customers can expect.
- ☐ I address at least one common concern or objection.
- ☐ The difference between my service and alternatives is clear.

Notes:

Landing Page Experience

- ☐ Each important page has one primary call to action.
- ☐ The headline focuses on the visitor's problem or desired outcome.
- ☐ The page explains what happens after someone takes action.
- ☐ The page is easy to read on a mobile phone.
- ☐ Important information appears before unnecessary details.
- ☐ Testimonials, examples, results, or other proof are visible.
- ☐ Links and buttons work correctly.
- ☐ The page does not overwhelm visitors with too many choices.

Notes:

Lead Capture

- ☐ Visitors can quickly find a way to contact me or take the next step.
- ☐ My form asks only for information I actually need.
- ☐ The form works on both desktop and mobile.
- ☐ The form tells visitors what they will receive after submitting it.
- ☐ The visitor sees a clear confirmation after submitting.
- ☐ I receive a notification when someone contacts me.
- ☐ The person who submits the form receives a useful next step.

Notes:

Follow-Up

- ☐ I respond promptly when someone expresses interest.
- ☐ The person receives what I promised them.
- ☐ My follow-up explains what happens next.
- ☐ I have a way for an interested person to book a conversation.
- ☐ My follow-up answers common questions before the sales conversation.
- ☐ I have a reminder process for people who do not respond.
- ☐ I know when to stop following up or move someone into a nurture list.

Notes:

Booking and Consultation Experience

- ☐ Prospects can book without a long back-and-forth conversation.
- ☐ My booking page shows the correct availability and time zone.
- ☐ The meeting duration is clearly stated.

- ☐ The booking confirmation includes the meeting details.
- ☐ Reminder messages are sent before the meeting.
- ☐ I collect enough information before the meeting to prepare effectively.
- ☐ I have a clear goal for the consultation.

Notes:

Customer Journey

- ☐ I know the path a prospect should take from first visit to purchase.
- ☐ Every major page has a logical next step.
- ☐ I know where prospects are most likely to stop moving forward.
- ☐ I track inquiries, bookings, proposals, and new clients.
- ☐ I follow up after a consultation.
- ☐ People who are not ready to buy have a lower-pressure next step.
- ☐ I review the customer journey periodically and improve it.

Notes:

Your Priority Action

Review the unchecked boxes and answer these questions.

Which unchecked item could be costing me the most opportunities?

What is the smallest useful improvement I could make this week?

What result would tell me that the improvement worked?

Want help finding the biggest leak?

Book a free conversion review.

We can look at your offer, landing page, lead-capture path, follow-up, and booking experience, then identify the most practical next improvement.

Book here:

<https://cal.com/job-njoroge-js0dkl/free-conversion-review>

Job “Jey” Njoroge
Conversion Systems Designer